George Russell is chairman of the golf course committee for Carmel Unincorporated, new president Tom Perry tells us. "And I told him to come in to see you, Wilma. Maybe you can help us."

It's the other way around. Carmel Unincorporated's golf course project could help us. When Mr. Perry first spoke of it, we said we thought it was an ideal idea, a double-barreled thing, at last a practical green belt project. It would serve to give us space instead of more of the subdivisions that are girdling Carmel, and fill the need for another golf course. Sunday after Sunday the local courses are so crowded with visitors and tournaments that local golfers have to trek off to Salinas, Santa Cruz, even Hollister.

If Mr. George Russell will come in Monday, we'll be glad to hear more about it.

Meanwhile, we hope that Mr. Russell or Mr. Perry, somebody representing Carmel Unincorporated, will promote their golf course idea at Supervisor Tom Hudson's Green Belt Meeting at Asilomar Friday night, 8:00 o'clock. Supervisor Hudson has arranged for William H. Whyte, Jr., to speak. He is a Fortune Magazine writer who has done several articles on the subject of green belts, and an authority on the subject, Mr. Hudson says. Senator Fred Farr, County Planning Commission Chairman Keith Evans and County Planning Commission Secretary Ed DeMarrs will be there and no doubt have something to say.

The meeting is open to the public, and in his muddled way, Supervisor Hudson has got around to inviting some of the key people of the Peninsula.

If Blanche Tolmie has to do with something, it is sure to be in the Carmel—old Carmel—tradition of sound art, good fun, everything custom made and as many people as possible in on the act. The Comedy of the Washtub, to be presented by the Carmel Craft Guild tomorrow night at the Art

European Composer Finds America Has Favorable Musical Climate, Makes Home On Monterey Peninsula

By RAYLYN PENNEY

These are some of the woes of a composer:

"People wouldn't think of depending on 19th Century methods of transportation or modes of living, but there's something about music that makes them want to hear only the familiar over and over. Many close their minds to the new music which reflects so well the mood of our time.

"It's possible to write a little tune for the movies and make a million, but if you produce a long, serious composition, it's often difficult even to get someone to read the score through.

"A serious composer should devote all his time to music. But how?"

Actually Philippe Buhler, far from being a complaining artist, seems to be a contented fellow who laughs often and thoroughly enjoys the music he lives with. He listed his problems only to add that he believes the situation will improve and that if he didn't think America had a favorable musical climate, then he wouldn't have come here.

Buhler, whose work has been widely performed in western cities since his arrival in this country 10 years ago, has been a resident of the Peninsula for the past eight months. His Concertino for Piano and Chamber Orchestra was performed by pianist Gilbert Boyer and the Carmel Chamber Music Society last month in Carmel, marking the Swiss-born composer's local debut.

Son of a French father, a chemical engineer and amateur violinist, and a Swiss mother, a graduate in piano and voice of the Geneva Conservatory, Philippe Buhler describes his work as influenced by the post-Ravel French school of Poulenc, Honneger and Milhaud, and further colored, of course, by Bartok and Stravinsky.

He sees himself as a non-extremist among contemporary composers, cleaving to a neo-classic style divorced from the 12-tone effects of Schoenberg.

"I try to save my evenings for music," says Buhler, who doubles up on careers by teaching in the

Commercial Wing Of City Council Wins Out On Tree

Carmel City Council voted three to two last night to allow removal of the controversial pine tree which stands at the driveway of a Fifth Street motel, but not before a number of opinions had been heard, a few tempers had run thin and a large chunk of the evening been consumed.

The tree, whose fate has been before the council on four previous occasions, allegedly blocks the entrance to the Surf Tides Motel between Junipero and Mission and is described as "diseased and dangerous" by the motel owners.

Majory Lloyd's Candidacy Wins Impressive Support

Of all the new candidates for office in the Carmel School Board of Trustee's election on May 19, probably none has had more experience than Marjory Lloyd in fostering the growth and development of the local schools, her supporters point out. In 1938, only five years after arriving in Carmel, she was out tramping its sandy lanes, knocking on doors and campaigning for the building of Carmel's own high school. She has been ever since supported of the necessary bond drives, and for 23 years the P.T.A. has made use of her services in every capacity from primary grade room mother, through committee chairmanships up to vice-president.

Mrs. Howard Hatton of the Carmel Valley says, "I first met Marjory about 20 years ago when we both enrolled our boys in Sunset School and she was selected as P.T.A. room mother. Through the years I have never known Marjory to be anything but devoted to the schools and the children. She has intelligence, endless patience and understanding. She

Everyone Invited To Comedy Of Washtub At Gallery Friday

A puppet show, The Comedy of the Washtub, translated and adapted by Blanche Tolmie from a 15th century French Farce, will be presented at the meeting of the Crafts Guild at the Carmel Art Gallery Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. This special program of the Crafts Guild will be open free of charge to the public.

Miss Tolmie who also "acts" in the play and who designed and made the puppets, was formerly with the Federal Theater Marionette Group in San Francisco and has been very active in Carmel in behalf of theatrical and craft projects.

"Acting" with Miss Tolmie and Mr. Carl Bensberg, who takes the masculine lead, is Miss Pauline Benton, noted as the director of the Red Gate Chinese Shadow Players. Mr. Jack James will have charge of lighting, sound effects, and music.

The stage, which was constructed by Mr. Nick Crookston, was decorated by Mr. Geza St. Galy. Backdrops were painted by Nancy Johnson and Joyce Bishop with the help of Margaret Shipley, and the curtains were made by Hazel Crookston.

It became the center of a minor drama last month when the council, after three times refusing permission for its removal, then voted three to two on the tree tour in favor of removal, but rescinded that decision at the council meeting next evening. Police halted the ax, which was already falling.

Motel owner Ray Berney, lessee Connie R. Cornelison and Councilman James Buffington, Jr., took the position that the tree was 90 per cent dead, full of beetles, in danger of toppling over any minute on cars and pedestrians, and likely in any case to spread disease to nearby trees. They cited the opinion of a tree surgeon, also the opinion of a state forester who yesterday advised removal of dead and diseased trees in general in a report to the Carmel Forest Commission.

Councilman Tom May and Gunnar Norberg took the stand that the tree was alive, not afflicted with the kind of arboreal ailment that is contagious and really not in the way anyhow since the motel has another entrance. Also, trees are scarce in that part of town and existing ones should remain if possible.

Those opposing the removal seemed to feel as if the matter were part of the larger question of keeping the growing business district from divesting Carmel of its trees, while Berney gave the impression he believed the real objections came from a group he called "people who don't like motels."

Allen Knight, formerly opposed to removing the tree, joined Mayor Chitwood and Councilman Buffington in voting for removal, opposing Manager Jack Cate's Little League entry, Wilder & Jones, forged into first place during the past week by winning from Boys' Town and Sports Shop and gaining a tie with the San Carlos Agency club. The plumbiers clipped the Sports, 3 to 1, edged Boys' Town, 7 to 6, and deadlocked San Carlos, 4 to 4. Joe Fernandez pitched the win over Boys' Town, scattering 11 hits over the six inning route. Andre Pashin, clothier catcher, was the big hitter in this game, hitting safely four times in five trips to the plate. George Thaler topped the W&J hitters with two singles in two official times at bat.

In one of the best played games of the season, W&J topped Lew McCreery's Sport Shop gang, 3 to 1, as George Thaler threw a one-hitter at the Sports. Ron Mumford and Howdy King divided the hurling chores for the Sports and collaborated for a stingy two-hitter. Pat Woolsey was the only Sport Shop swinger to get a hit off Thaler while Joe Fernandez and Jack Mahoney picked up the W&J hits.

Pilot Market dropped a 6 to 3 decision to the Sport Shop as Holly Garcia pitched a solid four-hitter. Robin Smith swung the big stick for the Sports, clouting a lead-off home run in the third inning and driving in two runs with a single in the fourth heat. Tim Mosolf hit two-for-three to lead the grocers in the hitting department.

Turner & McEldowney got in the win column at the expense of Jack Miller's San Carlos gang, edging the realtors, 6 to 5. Jerry Olsen and Ron Berry shared the pitching job and gave up two hits between them. Jeff Zils pitched for the losers, allowing two hits but walking seven T&M batters. Mike Beard and Don Blanks hit safely for the winners while John Aitken and Mat Little picked up the San Carlos hits.

Tonight's Little League play matches Pilot with League-leading Wilder & Jones. Friday night Sport Shop tackles Turner & McEldowney with Saturday's action spotlighted on the Little League Farm Teams. At 10 a.m. Saturday, Rockets and Nikko's have at it, Village Inn and Derek Rayne take over at 12 Noon, and Special Delivery makes a run at Whitney's Restaurant in the 2 o'clock game. Last Saturday Nikko's beat the Little Sparrows, Village Inn topped the Rockets, and Special Delivery edged Derek Rayne.

CARMEL SOFTBALL RIVALS CLASH FRIDAY NIGHT AT SUNSET FIELD

nour's Builder aggregation but the lumbermen should put up a good tussle. Village softball fans haven't seen two Carmel teams in competitive action since the hard-fought games played by Wilder & Jones and the Pine Cone clubs.

Manager Paul Artellan and Coach Don Sands are enthusiastic about the Merchant team this season and figure to be strong contenders in the Pacific Grove Recreation League. In six practice games so far this season, the Merchants have won five and lost one. Only the undefeated Monterey Texaco outfit has taken the Merchants into camp and that was in the first game of the season. A trio of topflight starting pitchers, Howard Simms, Red Hartsock, and Beryl Hartsock, give the Merchants a solid mound crew capable of holding up in Class AA competition. Paul Ricketson and Fritz Lembach have been the outstanding hitters for the Merchants while Jack McGaughey, Frank Silva, Jim Fisher, and Denicio Narvaez have sparkled on defense.

Bob Laugenour's Builder Supply team is manned for the most part by ex-Carmel High players who have banded together for a little outside competition. John DeAmara, an in-and-out pitcher who can be tough when he is right, had a cup of coffee at the Padre campus before transferring to Pebble Beach and is considered one of the top journeyman softball pitchers on the Peninsula. The Builder infield is built around Mike Ricketts, Walt Frey, Mike Mosolf, Don Canham, and Joey Rogers.

CARMEL TRACK TEAM WINS CCAL B-SECTION MEET

Fine come-through performances by a host of Carmel High trackmen enabled the Padres to rack up 70 points in the CCAL B-Section Meet and finish 12 points ahead of second-place King City and 14 points ahead of third-place Hollister. Although the Padres finished first in only four of the thirteen events, good depth in all the events enabled the Red & Gray to win places in every event except the shot-put. Outstanding performances by Pete Hanson and Don Kearney in the 200 got the Padres off to a good start as Hanson took first place and Kearney ran his best-ever race to garner the fourth spot. David Farr also ran his best-ever race in the 220-yard dash to pick up some precious points for the Carmel cause. Phil White won the pole-vault and broad-jump as expected to top all the Carmel scorers. Other Padres to hit the score column were Nick Vertin, 4th pole-vault and 2nd high-jump; Bill Hicks, 2nd discus; Bud Conroy, 4th 100-yard dash; Al Dahlstrand, 2nd high-hurdles and 3rd low-hurdles; Bill Harder, 4th high-hurdles and 2nd low-hurdles; Dennis Peavey, 3rd broad-jump; Craig Smith, 3rd 440; Frank Mayo, 1st in relay; and Frank Wallace, 2nd in mile run.

Carmel's lightweight squad tallied 13 points to finish 7th in the eight-school meet. Lightweight scorers were Joe Zoellin, 4th 660; Lee Oleson, 1st 330; and Gerhard Kalmus, 4th in the 1320.

Saturday afternoon the Padres go after the CCAL championship at Salinas where the 12 CCAL schools battle it out for the league championship. Monterey High won the A-Section Meet and will be favored along with Salinas and Carmel to pick up the league title.

PADRE TANKMEN CCAL CHAMPS

Coach Paul Morlang guided his hard-working Carmel High swim team to the CCAL Championship last Saturday morning at the Gilroy High pool and brought home the first swimming championship ever recorded by a Padre team. Morlang's topflight job of organization and placement of performers outsnookered the larger schools who had overlooked Carmel's power in the final relay race. With fresh men available for the final event, the Padres zipped to a new CCAL record in the 200 freestyle relay to easily beat second-place Pacific Grove and sew up the hotly-contested meet. Carmel's winning relay team consisted of Doyle Clayton, Bill Hicks, Chips Wood, and Jeff Smith.

"WHERE TOWN AND COUNTRY SHOPPER MEET"

"I Was Filled With A Sense Of Immensity Of Musical Enterprise"

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

Returning from a week of the National Federation of Music Clubs 32nd Biennial Convention at San Diego, I was filled with a sense of the immensity of American musical enterprise which the clubs have inspired through the men and women devoted to the ideal of "Music as a living force in the Community towards the highest culture and world peace."

While this convention was mainly for the Western region of ten states, its delegates came from all directions, as far away as New York and Maine, representing every aspect of musical activity, now listed as bigger business even than sports. The Federation is the only cultural organization with a representative in the United Nations (Margaret S. Sullivan). Its dynamic president, Mrs. Ronald Arthur Dougan, for the past four years is responsible for the increase in presentation of more American composers and performers, even internationally, and has instituted a $1000 prize to conductors in Europe for the greatest presentation of American works. William Strickland, conducting the Vienna Philharmonic, was an initial winner with no less than 28 American compositions performed. The second was the Westminster Choir with 41 American works presented in 22 countries for nearly 2,000,000 listeners. The audition awards for Young Artists are well known.

The Federation deals with so many facets in music that no adequate report can be made in one article. From a child of five who played her own composition on Youth Day, to performances of the Los Angeles Symphony and San Diego Symphony Orchestras under George Solti and George Barati, Conductor of the Honolulu Symphony, as guest conductors, with internationally famous artists, some of whom were former winners in the Federation Auditions and whom we have heard locally—such as John Browning, Nan Merriman, Igor Gorin, Stanley Plummer, Marie Gibson, the Paganini Quartet, William Masselos, soloist with the Monterey Symphony last season, and numbers of others, not a moment of the ten days was without a significant address or artist performance besides luncheons, dinners and business meetings. Indigestion might have resulted had not the variety kept up inspiration!

The Grant Hotel was the official headquarters, while El Cortez and the San Diego also housed events, with Balboa Park and Club as settings for several that included singers' auditions, civic organist Douglas Duncan's recital on the great Speckels organ of the outdoor pavilion, and the Choral Festival. This last, with performances from individual choirs from Salt Lake City's Symphonic Choir; Boise Choristers and Capella Choir; Portland Crescendo Club; the Louisianians from Louisiana; Purple-robed Choir of South Western College, Kansas; Shrine of the Ages Choir, Flagstaff and University of Arizona Symphonic Choir were finally heard en masse under the baton of Grant Fletcher, who originally started the grass roots opera movement in South Carolina. The effect of this was one of the most stirring, with feeling and devotion given out sincerely.

Opera there was, also, with Galantry by Douglas Moore of U. C. L. A. Opera Workshop, an amusing satire on radio and television artists. Eureka Inspiration Point Arts Colony Opera Workshop gave Robin and Marion, by the French troubadour Adam de la Halle in 1285, reconstructed from an old musical play somewhat like parts of Robin Hood. At Point Loma's Western University there was a short opera by their workshop. The Point has the oldest greek theatre in the State, which I saw in ruins years ago when the place was the headquarters of a Theosophical Society, but now restored and used by the University with its background of sea and sky.

In scenes from La Traviata at the opera dinner, a lovely opera gown had been lent by Madame Galli-Curei who now lives at Rancho Santa Fe and paints. A luncheon was given at the El Cortez in honor of the Life and Special Members of which I was part, having been a Life member since Tri-Cities days. Of the outstanding women who have been presidents, I have known Mrs. Frank Selberling, Mrs. James Ottaway, Mrs. Royden Keith, Mrs. Stillman Kelly and Mrs. Ada Holding Miller, all devoted to the cause. But it has remained for Mrs. Dougan, the retiring president, with Mrs. C. Arthur bullock of Canton, Ohio, voted in, to have accomplished more far-reaching helpfulness with diplomatic charm and spiritual perception in executive power that few possess. Her four years can claim significant accomplishments in every direction. During her term of office, 9000 pieces of music have been sent to musical ensembles abroad, 435 awards for unusual musical achievement and ten other special awards besides over 400 awards to string ensembles in public and private schools and significant string activity in communities, thus helping to combat the shortage of good string players that still exists.

The winners of the auditions who received $1000 each with promised debuts with the Boston and New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestras were Patricia Lou MacDonald lyric soprano, Diana Steiner, violinist, James Standard, bass-baritone, and Robert Brownlee, pianist, who all appeared in recital after the Aloha dinner. Floride Cox Dean was chairman of the auditions, and my old friend Robert MacDonald, now of San Diego, was the official accompanist, and told me the requirements for contestants were steeper than anything he had ever heard of in his experience of accompanying many first class artists!

I was asked why no music societies of the Monterey Peninsula are affiliated with the National. This, of course, I could not answer. But may I suggest that while we hope to have a headquarters here for the American Symphony League, etc., affiliation with the National would undoubtedly be a benefit, for the broader the activity, the more significant this locality will become in the music world. I had to go to La Jolla to lunch with old Washington friends the day the Californian State section of the Federation had a meeting. Mrs. A. Segel of Fresno is the acting head of this group.

Shaw Dialogue Opens Friday At Circle

George Bernard Shaw will be heard from at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre, beginning Friday. Shaw's play-length dialogue, Don Juan In Hell, will be done as a dramatic reading on the Circle stage, in the style as it was presented throughout the country seven years ago by the First Drama Quartet, composed of Charles Loughton, Charles Boyer, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Agnes Moorehead.

Balancing the lively discourse will be two familiar faces and two new talents. Fred Rider will be present as both director and Don Juan. As an actor, he will be remembered for his portrayal of Maitland in the Chalk Garden. The other familiar face will be that of Ted Kuster as he presents the comments of the Commander.

New will be Brian Jarmon and Alexa Morgan. As the mis-understood, easy-going Devil, Mr. Jarmon takes verbal pokes at most everything. This presentation will be added to his already long theatrical background. Mr. Jarmon has gained experience through radio, television, and little Theatre productions in Phoenix, Arizona and Akron, Ohio.

As Dona Ana, Alexa Morgan has appeared recently on the New York stage and in television. She may be recognized to fans of Medic, the Bob Cummings Show, and Shower of Stars. Miss Morgan studied with the Abbey Players as well as the Old Vic.

Briefs . . .

Gallery, 8:00 o'clock, free to the public, meets all these Blanche Tolmie specifications. See news story page one.

Monday, Admiral Fisher, as president of the Carmel Citizens Committee, addressed a letter to the California State Highway Commission, with copies to Governor Brown, Senator Farr, Assemblyman Pattee, and the local newspapers, in reference to the projected highway interchanges at the top of the Carmel Hill and at Carpenter Street.

"Analysis of drawings and models of the grade separations at Carmel Hill and Carpenter Street show that after completion there will still remain as many or more dangerous grade separations as before (ten at Carmel Hill.) At the major interchanges, each of which will apparently cost about one million dollars, the landscape devastation is appalling, and such as no man-made replanting can correct. And all this in an area unsurpassed in natural beauty, near the end of a proposed freeway, which, instead of leading to a large city, terminates a few miles south of the Carmel River," the letter states.

"We therefore, urge that this whole matter be re-examined openly and in detail, and that a state official with authority to act be assigned to the Monterey Peninsula to hold public hearings for this purpose."

We have a letter from M. R. Pearce, Director of Public Works for the City of Monterey, addressed to "Mrs. Wilma Cook, Carmel Pine Cone, Dear Sir:"

We are informed that the "engineering sub-committee of the Monterey County Highway Advisory Committee will meet Friday. "You are urged to submit your requests for highway development in your area before May 8 to Mr. Gordon Howe, City Manager, Seaside, California (representing the Monterey Peninsula Area.)"

If any of you have suggestions for highway development for the Monterey Peninsula here's your chance, but you'd better hurry up because tomorrow is the day when "the Engineering sub-committee will attempt to evaluate the various requests from an engineering standpoint and will report its findings to the Executive Committee of the Monterey County Highway Advisory Committee."

"Mrs. Wilma Cook, Dear Sir" has no requests for highway development in the Monterey Peninsula area. We are having rather too much highway development in our area, as Admiral Fisher's communication indicates.

The Monterey County Highway Advisory Committee held its organization meeting in Salinas Wednesday night, week ago, and set up subcommittees, of which the engineering committee appears to be getting right down to business.

The Carmel Forestry Commission decided yesterday afternoon to recommend close planting of well grown pines (about three years old) as a screen for the street department dump activities at the city's "natural park" in the gully north of town.

The Planning Commission recommended eucalyptus trees some months ago, but on Francis Whitaker's protest the city council referred it to the forest commission. What Whitaker protested primarily was the dump activities on land that had been deeded to the city for park purposes. The fill is killing pines, Whitaker says, and the stored wood from diseased trees is serving as source of infection. Forest commission agrees on this latter point and will recommend that storage there of logs be discontinued.

Apparently the forest commission, like the planning commission, is not prepared to back Whitaker on urging discontinuance of dumping. "The ravine needs to be filled to be useful," said Herbert Blanks in his report.

John Dowdakin, state forester for this area, gave a report on pine diseases, bugs and beetles. The forest commission is seeking information from a number of sources for material for a leaflet it will issue for the guidance of Carmelites in preserving the trees on their private property.

Carmel City Council denied all applications for tree removals on its tree tour Tuesday afternoon. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company had asked for four pines out on Guadalupe between Ocean and Fifth, and one pine on Ocean Avenue, east of Forest, to simplify the job of putting in another power line. Council recommended relocating power poles.

Susanne E. Clark was given permission to trim an accacia tree on San Antonio and Ocean. She had asked to remove it.

EDWARDS TO GIVE ESKIMO TRAVELOGUE

Visiting Herbert Lewis is Arctic traveler William Austin Edwards who has just returned from three years of observation of the Eskimo country of Ungava in Hudson Bay Strait and the country surrounding Baffin Bay. The expedition, sponsored by the Canadian government, was in the interest of integrating the Eskimo population into the new social framework, the result of the installation of radar stations, jet and missile bases, and settlement throughout the area of scientific workers from all parts of Canada and the United States.

The language barrier is still in evidence, but becoming progressively a lighter problem. Family customs are changing rapidly, though many of the picturesque customs still exist. Mr. Edwards who was born in British Columbia, attended Sandhurst (the West Point of England) and served in the British Household Cavalry, has brought back an extensive collection of kodachrome transparencies from his Canadian tour, as well as a wealth of anecdote. He is scheduled to give an evening's program in the Circle of the Golden Bough on the evening of May 19.

Marjory Lloyd's Candidacy Wins Impressive Support

would make an outstanding board member."

Marjory's husband, Frank Lloyd, who came to Carmel in 1911, figures that Marjory will soon have put in 52 years with the school, allowing 13 years for each of their four children. Besides this, Mrs. Lloyd served as P.T.A. representative on the Adult Board of the Carmel Youth Center. One of her co-workers there, Horace Lyon, a former mayor of Carmel, was, as he puts it, "impressed with her intelligence and sympathetic understanding of young people, her practical, down-to-earth approach to problems, and her fine sense of co-operation. It is gratifying that a person with Marjory Lloyd's qualifications is willing to serve on the school board."

Mrs. Lloyd's background also includes work on the Girl Scout Board, the Book Selection Committee of the Harrison Memorial Library and the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra Board. Mrs. William Arley (Gerry) Smith is enthusiastic about her candidacy. "We have worked together for years on civic projects, the P.T.A. and the bond issues. Marjory is sincerely dedicated to the welfare of the children of Carmel. She is calm, judicious and practical. We would be lucky to have her on the board."

Another mother to vouch for her is Mrs. Harry Hilbert. "I know and trust Marjory. We have all seen her work with the P.T.A. and the kids. She is genuinely interested in the schools, she has no axe to grind and I am delighted that she has consented to try for the vacancy being left by Mrs. von Meier."

Mrs. Elise de Celles Beaton, recently retired teacher of French and Latin at the high school, reviewed Mrs. Lloyd's work with the schools. "I know of no one more respected by the teachers throughout the years. Marjory represented the community on the committee that wrote the personnel policy for the school board in 1952 when our district came under the tenure laws. She and Professor David Hoisington are now representing the citizens on the high school's CASSA Implementation Committee. I certainly give her my full support."

Hope and Mark Raggett say, "We have known Marjory Lloyd for twenty-three years and we know personally of her keen interest in the schools. We are convinced that her clear and objective thinking would make her a well qualified member of our school board." Siding with others are Everett Banfield of Carmel Highlands who endorses her as "a fine woman, bright, civic-minded and a cooperative worker," Eugene Harrah of Carmel Hills: "I certainly am all for her. She has proved her interest over and over again. I am indeed glad to see her in the running," and Mrs. Talbert Josselyn, who said, "Marjory Lloyd has my support. She is fair-minded, quick witted and conscientious."

European Composer Makes Home On The Peninsula

French Department of the Army Language School. "Composing takes a lot of time."

"Or more accurately, it's what follows the composing that takes the time. The orchestrating, checking, rechecking and copying may take months, years."

"Music is the most abstract of the abstract arts and to the uninitiated it might seem an easy art medium, offering plenty of freedom. However, the formal aspect of music is essentially as demanding as that of architecture. It's a perfect balance of line, produced in time rather than space."

"Anyone can write a theme," Buhler said, "but to develop it logically and at the same time give it spontaneity requires the technique of an artist."

He cited what are probably the four most familiar notes in the history of music, the Beethoven Fifth Symphony motif. "Now there's a simple theme," he said. "It's the development that makes it a work of art." He said Bartok is the modern master of this type of motivistic development.

Time was when Americans went to Europe for graduate study in music. Buhler reversed the procedure. After studying at the conservatories of Mulhouse (France), Lyon, and Lausanne and earning a bachelor's degree at the University of Strasbourg, he came to the United States for graduate study in music, completing his master's at the University of Redlands, where he held the Cadman scholarship for graduate study in composition.

He feels that for at least the past 15 years this country has had a genuine, recognizable, definitive school of composition of its own, reflective of the complex American culture.

And many musicians, both amateur and professional, are hard at the business of composing. "For every Stravinsky there are a thousand others you never hear of. Interest in musical composition is high."

In addition to the Concertino, which was also performed in Mulhouse, Redlands and Salt Lake City, and is to be presented soon at the University of Kentucky, the local composer has heard performances of his Anaëlle for Orchestra, First String Quartet, Symphonic Essay, Piano Sonata, sacred songs, Villanelle and Noel en Trio for Organ.

The latter work was published by Summy, Chicago, and his French Folk Songs (in English) was published by J. Spratt in Darien, Conn., and New York. French publications have included a Noel and Indian Lullaby, published in Paris by Presses de l'Île de France.

As a teacher of French and music, he served on the faculties of Daycroft School in Stamford, Conn., and Desert Sun School in Idyllwild, California. He has also taught piano, been a professional pianist, a music copyist and a French interpreter under the Marshall Plan, working in Washington, D.C.

A United States citizen since 1956, he lives now in Del Monte Park with his attractive brunette wife and three daughters: Michele, 12, a student of piano and violin with an interest in ballet; Nicolette, 6, and Claudine, 6 months.

Besides his current self-imposed arduous schedule, he says he will be teaching piano privately and composition in small groups if interest is sufficient.

Mrs. Buhler, obviously a busy mother, finds the time to help out on the hard-work side of composing, lending a hand on the continuing chore of score copying.

Coming from a working composer, it's really a glittering compliment her husband pays her when he says, "She doesn't mind the work, and that's a wonderful thing in a person, not to mind copying music."

Schuster To Play Haydn's Concerto With Co. Symphony

The more familiar works of Richard Strauss will keynote the program awaiting those who attend the Fourth and last Monterey County Symphony concert of the 1958-59 season, on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium.

The Strauss portion of the program will include the tone poem Don Juan, and the first sequence of his opera Der Rosenkavalier will include the waltzes.

Also on the program will be Schubert's Symphony No. 8, the Unfinished, which met with highly popular acclaim at the recent Children's concert.

The featured soloist of this concert will be Josef Schuster, cellist; Schuster will perform Haydn's Concerto for Violin Cello and Orchestra with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, Gregory Millar conducting. Schuster has appeared in this area previously, and those who attended the Bach Festival will well remember his talent.

THE MEADOW - BRIGHT WHEEL

The evening
Wound and wound
Its golden thread,
And we knew the stillness of birds,
The purple plum night;
What the words were
Of air
And the light speaking quick
In that rising of meadow-bright wheel—
How the lions looked
A thousand years ago;
We thought of the Aryans
Watching
This same wheel
Standing and standing
The long years.

—ORIAN DEPLEDGE

MEANS TO AN END

Suspicion is a sword hanging above the heart of friendship. When rough thought or wayward word jostles its fine suspension thread, the quick vibration then may ravel filaments till love lies dead, stabbed by the blade swift-falling,
the blade so aptly aimed, so tenuously tied;
though often padded pride conceals the victim and the stain slow-crawling.

—HELEN FAULKNER

GHOSTS OF THE SEA

It's dusk—and athwart the fading light
Plumed waves dash high on the windward side
Of a rock-bound jetty and harbor bar;
Gathered within its shielding arm
A forest of masts arise—
And seeking vainly the first bright star
Point slender fingers at darkening skies.
Across the channel the harbor buoy
Weirdly moans, intermittently,
As the fog-bank silently steals its way
Toward the shore and the inland sea.
On the turn of the tide, slack mooring ropes
Rhythmically lift and fall; against a slip
A battered hulk eerily groans in the ways;
As rotting planks chase the ageing ship,
Grim patriarch of forgotten days.

I hear the clank of spectre chains
As the grey mist swirls her hull;
And through the veil, seen distantly,
File the phantom forms of a crew, long lost
In the limbo of mystery.

—GRACE R. BALLARD

LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian
There are some good new novels going out this week, but since we were all for novels last week, we will just remind you that we have a group of new ones that are good, and go on to the more serious things which are ready for you at the library.

The U. S. National Park Service has edited a book on our forty-ninth state, and the press of the University of California has published it. The title is Landscapes of Alaska, and while it sounds as if it were a thing for tourists, it is really a geological study of Alaska. There are many photographs and maps of various kinds. This book should be tops for anyone contemplating moving to Alaska or seriously interested in it for any reason.

A book which this librarian intends to read but has not yet done so is I'll Die Laughing by Joseph T. McGloin, S. J. It seems that it takes 15 years of study, prayer, and work to become a Jesuit priest. But according to Father McGloin, there is much laughter and fun, and in this book he recalls the funny things which happened to him during his period of preparation, as well as the serious study and inspiration which was his.

Dr. Paul Dudley White wrote the foreword to a new book on diet by Ancel and Margaret Keys. The title is Eat Well and Stay Well, and the central theme is a diet which is beneficial to the person who wishes to avoid trouble with his heart, or has had trouble and wishes to keep such difficulty under control as much as possible through diet.

The arrival of Winston Churchill to this country sparks added interest in a new book by Norman McGowan entitled My Years With Churchill. This is a personal picture as seen by the eyes of his valet. Much has been written about Mr. Churchill, all of it interesting and revealing new facets of his remarkable life.

The land of the Million Elephants and the White Parasol is what Odgen Meeker calls Laos in his book, The Little World of Laos. The gentle people of Laos delighted Mr. Meeker when he went there as the first representative of CARE and his book about them will delight you.

During the last war two German scientists took refuge in the Namib desert and lived there under great privation for two and a half years. Life was a never ending struggle to find water and food, but Henno Martin and Hermann Korn preferred it to internment in a war camp. Their book called The Sheltering Desert is well illustrated with photographs.

Thus endeth the tale of the books for this week. There are many more, a particularly good group this week, it seems. Come in and see for yourself.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Scientific understanding of the man of God's creating brings true health and security.

This is a theme to be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man."

Scriptural selections will include the account in John (9:1-7) of the healing by Christ Jesus of the "man which was blind from his birth."

Correlative passages read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (476:32-5): "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick. Thus Jesus taught that the kingdom of God is intact, universal, and that man is pure and holy."

Frederick Rider In Charge Of Lights For Stanford Opera

Frederick Rider is in Palo Alto designing the lighting combinations for the Stanford Opera Theatre production of The Count Ory, May 21-30.

With a day scene, a night scene, a storm scene, and a dawn scene, The Count Ory will feature many different kinds of lighting.

Rider is familiar with the Dinkelspiel auditorium remote controlled port, gallery, and rear loft lights, as last year he designed the lighting for Stanford's dual production of Thomas and Sally and The Unicorn, The Gorgon, and the Manticore.

Now director of the Golden Bough Circle Theatre in Carmel, he is a graduate of Yale, with a master's degree from the University of Washington. He studied at the University of Birmingham's Shakespeare School at Stratford-on-Avon and at the University of Paris as a Fulbright Scholar.

Assistant director of the New York production of I Am A Camera, he has had experience in all phases of the dramatic arts—acting, writing, directing, technical directing, stage design, and lighting.

Rider also designed the scenery for The Count Ory—rural French countryside and medieval castles—complete with drawbridge.

During the actual performance David Annett, an electrical engineering student, will manipulate the lights according to the schedule delineated by Rider.

Carmel High School Group Visits I B M

Seventy Carmel High School members of the California Scholarship Foundation left the school grounds last Friday morning at 8:00 o'clock by bus to visit the International Business Machines Corporation plant at San Jose upon an invitation arranged for them by Fred Elstob who was for 22 years comptroller of the world corporation.

According to Ethel Prowell, president of the Scholarship group, the guided tour through the many machine shops and experimental sections of the plant was a thrilling experience. But most thrilling of all was that during lunch in the vast cafeteria the visitors placed their used dishes on a conveying belt and they disappeared into the lower regions to be washed. Carmel High students busied themselves sending thank you notes along with the dishes to the busy washers.

"We were most impressed by the beautiful modern buildings with their colorful mosaic designs," Ethel concluded her report of the trip. Upon arrival back at CHS campus the touring students found that there was an hour to spare before school closed. Ethel said that they pitied the poor students inside the walls, while all 70 CSF members lounged on the lawns in the sun.

The students were accompanied

Letters . . .

May 4, 1959

The Carmel Pine Cone
Carmel, California
Dear Pine Cone:

It has been such a privilege to come to Carmel, from which we have imported the Pine Cone for some time.

It has been a privilege for my son to attend your high school. The many people which the Peninsula and the Valley are attracting have brought rare and lovely children with them, making the high school an unusually cosmopolitan and stimulating place for enquiring minds.

It is with a deep and considered regret that I offer criticism of an area which has given us so much.

It—the criticism that is—pertains to a recent meeting of the school board. While not wishing to pose as fully informed on the many ramifications of the problem—we had the opportunity of watching without pre-judgment or pre-prejudice.

It would seem that Carmel is on their trip by Mrs. Jane Down, teacher of algebra and student counselor.

not presently playing quite fair with her children. They do have the right to be heard as well as seen. They are people—with valid—frequently very wise observations and conclusions—sometimes even solutions of their own to offer us. Perhaps we err in not heeding them, not just in this instance, but whenever they have the interest, courage and grace to address us. Particularly when such an offering is proffered with a dignity which should put the emotionalism of many of us to shame.

If there be any doubt in your minds as to the subject to which I refer—let me stand up and be

WHAT'S DOING

Will you be looking for interesting programs for your club or church meetings next fall? Here's a suggestion: We have a big selection of entertaining films, and we're happy to let your group borrow them. They range from short, 10-minute features to hour-long color films of our great TV science shows, like Our Mr. Sun and The Alphabet Conspiracy (scene above). If you're interested, just give us a call here at the telephone business office, and we'll be glad to help you. Do it now, while films are still available for most dates next fall. No charge, of course.

The second Sunday in May, May 10th. This day which is rapidly approaching us is the day we have set aside in which we honor our mothers. Why don't you join the thousands who will on or before this day give their mothers the most personalized gift of all, a telephone call? But before you do, take a couple of tips that will make placing your call easier and faster. Place your calls early, avoid that last minute rush and you'll be sure of getting your call through on time, and call by number, not only on this special day but every day, it's faster and gives you better service.

The Lakys' Anniversary

Celebrating their 22 wedding anniversary tomorrow, Mr. and Mrs. Les Laky will entertain at their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Z. George Lang and their son from Los Angeles. The occasion will mark the reunion of cousins who have not seen one another since their childhood in Holland where Zyta Laky and George Lang grew up. Wars and world travel separated them when they were in their teens, and it was a month ago that Mrs. Laky learned of the Lang family's residence in southern California.

Les and Zyta Laky were married in Poland, May 8, 1937. There was a civil ceremony in Hungary, but the church ceremony was held in Poland and it is that day that the Lakys commemorate.

Les Laky, Jr., graduated from Carmel High School in '57, president of his class, is now attending the University of California. Mat will graduate from Carmel High in June and is president of the student body. Ginger, the Laky's daughter, is a freshman at high school. Following a tradition of Hungary, Mrs. Laky tells that tomorrow morning her "three boys," Les, senior, Les, junior, and Mat will present her with bouquets of spring flowers.

The Lakys came to the United States in 1949 and to Carmel in 1956. A portrait painter, Zyta is particularly known for her painting of animals. Les is an underwriter for the New England Life Insurance Company.

CHS Senior Play

In selecting T. S. Eliot's controversial Cocktail Party for the senior play of Carmel High School, Mr. Robert Wilson, English instructor, states that he made his choice as a challenge to the students as well as to the prospective audiences. Cocktail Party had its world premiere in Edinburgh in 1949. The high school production will mark its first performance on Monterey Peninsula. In the cast are Gail daRoza, Marjorie Haak, Lynn Dufon, Carolyn Pye, Gordon Douglas, Mike Blanton, Walt Helm, David Farr and Bill Kearney. Mr. Wilson is director. There will be two performances on consecutive evenings, May 29 and 30 at 8:15 o'clock, in Sunset School auditorium. Seats will not be reserved and the public is invited.

Clyde Davis Returns

Coming from a long stay in Hawaii, Clyde Brion Davis, novelist, who has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilbert, has taken a house at Torres and Tenth Streets for the month of May. Mr. Davis, with the late Mrs. Davis and his son David, was a Carmel resident 20 years ago. David, who attended Sunset School, now has his doctorate and teaches American History at Cornell University.

Spencers Meet Carmelites Abroad

In their most recent letter, addressed to Everybody in the House of Cards, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer, writing from Vienna, tell that Europe seems to have visiting Carmelites in every country. In Florence they had luncheon with John Driver, formerly with Heritages in Carmel. John is now living in Berne, Switzerland. In Milan they spent several days in the company of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Arnold of Pebble Beach. It was in Madrid that they had coffee with E. Hilary Urwick of Carmel Inn. Mr. Urwick is now enroute to Rome. And it was in the same city that they saw Kurt von Meier, "who looked very European sporting a beard!" wrote Mrs. Spencer.

The Spencers plan to go on to Nuremberg and Munich, then to London, where they will board a jet to come home early in June.

RLS to Present Jeffers Play

With Ruth Warshawsky in the role of Phaedra, Flavia Flavin as Aphrodite, Ted Huffman as Hippolytus, Lloyd Jenkins as Theseus and Rosamond Beck-Meyer as Selene, the Sponsors' Club of Robert

Louis Stevenson School will present a reading of Robinson Jeffers' The Cretan Woman on the evening of May 16. The program is for the benefit of the School's Scholarship Fund. It is directed by Ted Huffman, an RLS student. Tickets may be purchased by parents of students and their friends. Mrs. James Tyson, chairman, is assisted by Mrs. Thomas Harvey and Mrs. Richard Taylor.

P. E. O. Plan Auction

The P. E. O. Sisterhood is planning an auction sale on May 16 to raise funds toward establishing a retirement home in Northern California for elderly women. The auction "of treasured possessions" will be held at the Girl Scout House, 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Rev. Nicholas Entertains

The Rev. H. M. M. Nicholas of All Saints' Church will entertain members of the choir, also their husbands or wives, at his home on Sunday afternoon when they will hear, on stereophonic tape, their own singing of Thiman's cantata, The Last Supper, which was presented at the church on April 12.

Jim In The Far East

Jim Bannerman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bannerman, is now on his third tour of duty aboard the heavy cruiser U. S. Los Angeles, a unit of the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Far East. He expects that they will return to their home base in Long Beach the end of July. Jim will then have completed his years of service and will return to Carmel.

Bensberg Kodachrome Show

Carl Bensberg will show color slides which he took on a recent trip to Europe at Carmel Foundation Town House at 3:00 o'clock on Wednesday.

The May art exhibit has opened, showing paintings of three pupils of Louise Cardiero Boyer: Virginia Fry, Ruth Tanaka and Fanchon Freeman. These may be seen daily, Monday through Friday, from 10:00 to 5:00 o'clock.

High School Undergrads Marry

A Carmel High School romance culminated in the marriage of Joy Ostrander of Carmel Valley and William Harder of Carmel, both seniors in the class of June '59, at Carmel Mission on April 24. Joy is the daughter of Mrs. J. E. Ostrander of Jamesburg. She attended Carmel Valley schools and Santa Catalina School for girls. William, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harder of Carmel was a student at the Army and Navy Academy at Carlsbad for two and a half years before going to Carmel High School.

A reception will be held at the home of the bride's mother Sunday afternoon. The young couple will make their home in Carmel Valley and both plan to attend Monterey Peninsula College next fall.

Wayfarer Auxiliary Speakers

Creative recreation, especially as it applies to youth, was the theme for the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Gordon K. Reid, for more than thirty years engaged in work with the Girl Scouts, as her service pins show, described the activities carried on with young girls for recreation and character-building, with its emphasis on truth, honesty, and love. There are almost four million girls throughout the world in this organization. "We must produce the best brains in the world as well as the best machines," she said.

Janet Fehring, Carmel High School senior, told of the work with the next age group. She outlined at some length the work of the Youth Center for those of ages 14 to 17, plus older ones who had formerly belonged and who visit the center when they are in town. This work is supported jointly from the Community Chest, public recreation monies, and funds raised by the high school students in entertainments. Janet told also of the C-Bees, youth organization of the church, with its discussion groups, picnics, and charitable projects; and the summer camps at Clear Lake or Tahoe, conducted by different churches, where they meet groups from many other communities in the state. The C-Bees leader is Charles S. Downes.

July 19 has been selected by Miss Nancie Nielsen for her wedding day when she will marry Mervin Sutton. Nancie and Mervin were both born in Carmel. They are both graduates of Sunset and of Carmel High School and they will make their future home here.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Nielsen, Nancie is the granddaughter of the late Dr. Marshall K. Hall of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Hall, a resident of Carmel; and the late Mr. and Mrs. Niels Nielsen of Selma. Her parents are identified with business and civic affairs. Following her graduation from Carmel High School in 1957, Nancie went to San Francisco to attend the Powers School, returning to Carmel last summer.

now on the faculty of the Robert Louis Stevenson School. Creative recreation for senior citizens carried on by the Carmel Foundation, with its varied activities at Town House, and the school department summer program were also discussed by the women, but most attention was given to the youth programs.

The meeting followed luncheon prepared by Circle Four, Mrs. H. R. Herold, chairman. Mrs. John R. Christie, president, conducted the business; Mrs. F. H. Venn led the devotions, with the Reverend Victor H. Davis, minister of education, presenting a solo and leading the group singing.

All Saints Cradle Service
Lullabies will be heard and an antique cradle will be seen upon the altar of All Saints Episcopal Church next Sunday afternoon when the traditional Cradle Rocking Service will be conducted by Mrs. James P. McNeill.

As 25 infants are each in turn rocked, and sung to by the girls' choir, their young sponsors will come forward and the baby's name will be added to the Cradle Roll.

The tiny ladies and gentlemen include: Karen Alexander, twins Kay and Frank Andersen, Laura Leah Brown, and her sister Victoria Brown, Barbara Califf and Elizabeth Page Doris. Valerie Ewig, Vail Tian Emerick, Daniel Fenton, Douglas Bruce Graham, Thomas Andrew Keppel Hill, younger son of Rev. and Mrs. David Hill, Also, Heather Elizabeth Heard, Kathryn Jane Horne, Michael Thomas Irvin, Dana Franklen Krockmal, Margaret Lynn Morrison, James Robertson McNeill and Brian Forrest Pratt.

This is the fifth annual Cradle Rocking Service at All Saints Church, presented each year on Mother's Day.

Tom's Cafe Reopens Saturday, Newly Decorated, Enlarged

Tom's Cafe, a long established restaurant on Dolores Street, has just undergone a complete renovation program, and will reopen on Saturday.

Just like a butterfly emerging from its cocoon, the metamorphosis resulted in accenting the oriental motif with many colorful Chinese chandeliers, contributing silent beauty to the newly decorated dining areas.

Further improvements include an addition to the existing structure, which houses a new kitchen and a walk-in refrigerator.

A few more booths have been added to the original eating area, while the meeting room at the rear has also been redecorated.

Carmel Unincorp. Appointments

Letter To The Editor ...

P. O. Box 2562
Carmel, California
May 5, 1959

Editor Carmel Pine Cone:
Enclosed is a "Do you know that" circular from my last water bill.

My bill for 3900 cubic feet is $19.35. This is a rate of 66c per 1000 gallons and not 50c per 1000 gallons as advertised in the circular. The water comes down hill without pumping from about 15 miles away.

San Diego municipal water is entirely rate supported. Much of it comes 200 miles from the Colorado River over a 1600 ft. high hill costs the householder just one-half of the California Water and Telephone Company cost in Carmel.

Sincerely,
Charles D. Wheelock

F. H. DeCamp

Frank Halsey DeCamp, a summer visitor to Carmel for the past 30 years, and for the past three years a resident with his wife, Mrs. Viola DeCamp, succumbed to a cardiac condition last Friday in a local hospital. Born November 21, 1887 in Jersey City, N. J., Mr. DeCamp was until his retirement in 1946 in the wholesale produce business.

He and Mrs. DeCamp were married in Grand Forks, North Dakota, in 1902. After their first visit to Carmel in the late '20's the DeCamps returned each year bringing with them their daughter Virginia (Mrs. Douglas Beattie) who is now a Carmel resident.

In addition to his wife and daughter, Mr. DeCamp leaves four granddaughters, the daughters of Mrs. Beattie, and one great-grandchild. Funeral services were held Monday in the Mission Mortuary with Rev. David Hill of All Saints' Church officiating. Interment was in the Cementario El Encinal.

Col. Adamson

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Presidio of San Francisco for Colonel John E. Adamson, (U.S.A. ret.) who was fatally stricken last Monday in Stockton where he and Mrs. Adamson were visiting their daughter, Mrs. Patricia Whitesides.

Colonel and Mrs. Adamson have been residents of Carmel for the past ten years. It was in 1944, when he was stationed at Fort Ord that he decided to make Carmel his home upon his retirement. A native of Missouri, born July 28, 1889, he entered the U.S. Army in 1910. Rising through the years to the rank of Colonel, he served in both World War I and II. In addition to his wife and daughter he also leaves a grandson who is a cadet at West Point.

around natator, was top scorer for the new champions as he splashed to wins in the 100-yard butterfly and the 150-yard medley. In winning the butterfly event, the lanky junior established a new CCAL record of 1:08.1. Others contributing points for the Carmel cause were Mike Marquard, 1st backstroke and 3rd medley relay; Kirk Johnson, 4th 400 freestyle; and Andy Horning, 5th 400 freestyle; Alfredo Dopico, 6th 400 freestyle; Doyle Clayton, 3rd 500 freestyle; Bill Hicks, 4th 50 freestyle; Bert Blanks, 3rd 100 butterfly and 3rd 100 breaststroke; Mike McGibney, 5th freestyle; Jeff Smith 3rd 100 freestyle; Phil White, 5th diving; Andy Elliott, 6th diving; John Ley, 3rd 200 medley relay; and Bruce Kramer, 3rd 200 medley relay.

Team scores in the heavyweight division had Carmel in front with 76 points, Salinas 72, Monterey 49, Watsonville 46, Pacific Grove 34, and Gilroy 5. Watsonville High lightweights swamped all opposition in the limited division by amassing 114 points to 46 for second-place Salinas, Monterey 11, Carmel 10, Gilroy 4, and Pacific Grove 3.

Padre scorers in the lightweight division were Bill Coleman, 6th breaststroke; Joe Raney, 3rd diving; and a 6th place in the 200 freestyle relay.

PADRE NINE HOSTS GONZALES TODAY

Carmel High's in-and-out baseball squads have a chance to upset lead-leading Gonzales at the Carmel High diamond this afternoon when Coach Buddy Gutierrez brings his high-flying Spartans to Bardarson Field for junior-varsity and varsity action. Both Gonzales teams are leading their respective leagues, the varsity sporting a 5-1 record and the jayvees undefeated in five contests. In the first outing early in the season, the Spartans clipped the Padre varsity, 8 to 7, in an overtime affair while the Little Spartans topped the Padre Babes, 6 to 2. On the basis of recent games played, the varsity tilt should find the Spartans having an easy time with fifth-place Padres who dropped a 7 to 3 decision to San Lorenzo last Friday. While Carmel was getting clubbed by the Cougars the Spartans shoved Pacific Grove into second place by giving them a sound lacing.

Carmel will start its freshman sensation, Jim Brown, on the mound and if the slim righthander throws back to his performance against Pacific Grove he could give the league-leaders plenty of trouble. Brown worked in relief at San Lorenzo and pitched creditable ball until tiring in the last inning. Sophomore lefthander Chris Wilkin looked good in his one-inning stint at San Lorenzo and is about ready for a starting assignment. The big lefty is improving his control and has picked up a sharper-breaking curve to go with his swift one. Backing up Brown in today's tilt will be an infield of Phil O'Shea, Bud Cunningham, Dave Hansen, Ron Faia, and Walt Helm. Seniors Dale Dawson, Larry Dufur, and Ron Hinchcliff will patrol the outfield for the Padres.

Letters . . .

Editor Carmel Pine Cone:
RE: Highway No. 1

Dear Mrs. Cook:

I read the Carmel Pine Cone—and enjoy it. I am seldom constrained to comment upon a newspaper's reporting or editorializing. However, twice the action of the Board of Supervisors regarding the State Freeway Plan (SCR-26) has been reported to the effect that the Board voted four to one against deletion of the San Simeon Highway as a freeway.

Enclosed is an excerpt of the official minutes of the Board of Supervisors of March 30, 1959, which was approved May 6, 1959.

My thoughts are still the same—briefly, that Monterey County is an important member of the California family of counties and must cooperate with the other counties in their long, serious efforts to plan the solution of one of our state's vital problems, namely, safe, efficient and economical transportation. SCR-26 is an admirable start, although patently not a panacea. Continual modification and implementation is a prerequisite of any dynamic plan.

Presently I agree (for several reasons) that the San Simeon Highway should not be a "freeway," even by 1980.

My motion on this subject, which lost for want of a second, would have achieved both of the above objectives. However, with my motion failing, I could, not withhold my support for SCR-26 in principle. It is too important to the whole of California and the whole of Monterey County, including the Peninsula, Carmel and the San Simeon Highway.

Yours for a little better understanding, I trust.

Sincerely,

BURT L. TALCOTT

SCR-26 Report Relative to State Highway Plan, Approved

Road Commissioner Bruce McClain recommends the support of SCR-26 Report relative to the State Highway Plan.

Chairman Deaver states that both the State Supervisors Association and the Road Commissioners Association have supported the proposed Highway Plan, and that it is flexible to the extent revisions can be made every three or four years.

Supervisor Hudson expresses opposition to any plan which might indicate Highway No. 1 south of Carmel as a freeway.

Supervisor Talcott moves the Board support the report in principle, excepting therefrom any designation of Highway No. 1 south of the City of Carmel as a freeway. Hearing no second, Supervisor Talcott withdraws his motion.

After discussion, Supervisor Bunte moves the Board support SCR-26 Report in principle as recommended by the State Supervisors Association and the Road Commissioner, and advise the necessary persons of the Board's support. The motion is, seconded by Supervisor Henry, and carries by the following vote:

AYES: Supervisors Talcott, Bunte, Henry, and Deaver.
NOES: Supervisor Hudson,
ABSENT: None.

Mrs. Sullivan Home Again

Mrs. Lawrence H. (Vergie) Sullivan has just returned from a flying trip east where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Christenson, and her two grand-children Hal and Karen, in Buffalo. Going on to New York, New Jersey and Virginia, Mrs. Sullivan attended theatres and saw many old friends. Enroute home she visited members of her family in Phoenix and Tucson.

Kurt Finds Small World

Kurt von Meier, who has recently received a fellowship for graduate study at Princeton, (see last issue of Pine Cone) writes from Madrid, where he has been attending the university: "Carmel people always seem to cross paths: this morning I met Mr. Spencer from the House of Cards on Ocean Avenue having a cup of coffee at the little place right across from my pension. On the way to Granada I met an English sculptor named White who lived in Carmel when it was still half wild, and did some work in San Francisco (including murals inside Coit Tower). Small enough world."

Commercial Element Of City Council Wins Out On Tree

Norberg and May.

Knight asked if future trees likely to stir so much controversy and consume so much time couldn't be referred to the Forestry Commission for an opinion.

"We once referred a tree to the commission," City Clerk Larry Rose recalled, "but it fell in a storm before the commission had a chance to go look at it."

In terms of time consumed, the second major item on last night's agenda was a resolution turned down by the council, from Councilman Norberg, that the council petition the Monterey County Board of Supervisors to reopen their agreement with the council signed May 6, 1957, regarding the Hatton Canyon freeway project, including the two interchanges at Carpenter Street and the mouth of Carmel Valley.

Norberg said he had no specific suggestions for changes. He merely wanted the affair reopened in compliance with terms written in to the agreement itself.

Mayor Chitwood and others indicated they felt the reopening would be of no particular benefit without alternate plans to offer the State Highway Commission. "We'd have to have more than just an 'indignation meeting,'" he said.

The council voted instead to write the state for all available designs and plans ready to date on the road and interchanges for study by the council, and possible suggestions by the council on landscaping.

But the resolution by Norberg served as the opening gun in still another battle of the war against the freeway for a large group of anti-freeway spokesmen in last night's audience.

Norberg said that since the freeway project south of Point Lobos has been dropped from the state's master plan, there would be some merit in closer scrutiny of the conjunctive Hatton stretch, which cuts into the natural beauty of the canyon in widths up to 800 feet at some points. He felt similarly about the Carpenter Street interchange which he said is to have 11 grade crossings.

Francis Whitaker said it's the interchanges, not the freeway proper, that do the damage, and to request outright abandonment of the freeway project might throw it back onto Highway 1. "We have learned in Carmel to build around the trees. Why can't the Division of Highways learn to do the same?"

Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher (U. S.N., Ret.) drew loud applause from the audience for his anti-freeway speech and so did Mrs. Josephine Root, who read her latest, strongly worded telegram to Governor Brown voicing freeway opposition. Applauded also was realtor Victor Velissaratos. Engineer R. Rolleston West said he was not impressed by the work of the state highway engineers, who certainly are not infallible.

In other action the council:

Proclaimed Youth in Government Day, but without naming the date. It had been set for May 21, and then left open after the Thursday night time was objected to. On this day the high school students occupy city offices and hold a city council meeting.

Delayed the introduction and first reading of the business license fee ordinance so that local businessmen may have more time to study the proposal.

Passed the first reading of the dog license ordinance which tightens regulation of the Carmel dog population and raises license fees from $2.00 to $3.00.

Adopted a resolution establishing a No Parking zone at the northeast corner of Junipero and Sixth where a new hydrant has been installed.

Adopted a resolution to establish a procedure of referring sign permits to the building inspector for a report prior to presentation to the council.

Approved the hiring of a street laborer, Vincent R. Colletto, and a fire engine driver, Paul Artellan.

Voted to spend $650 for a block-by-block housing statistics to be collected by census takers at the time of the 1960 decennial census.

Authorized fireman Roy Walls' attendance at a fire training workshop in Fresno May 18-22.

Continued for further study a protest from Mrs. Kaye Benson that reflectors on Fourth Avenue, from Monte Verde to San Antonio, are inadequate to control traffic.

Referred to the Arts Commission a suggestion from John Cunningham that the Serra statue in Devendorf Plaza by Roy Zollen, which was a 1937 gift of the federal government, be relocated in a more prominent spot on the southwest corner of Monte Verde and Ocean Avenue with an identification plaque "to cover the hole where a youngster once placed a fire cracker."

(Cunningham feels that the statue, once called "the finest piece of folk sculpture in America" by contemporary artist Fernan Leger, isn't being properly displayed in its present location.)

Decided to continue the present practice of rendering decisions on the tree tours, despite a protest by Mr. Whitaker that the tour meetings result in hasty on-the-spot decisions and "make pursuit of the council difficult" for interested citizens following it around town.

Set May 25 at 8:00 o'clock as the time for a joint meeting with the Carmel Planning Commission on central district zoning.

Approved the city clerk's attendance and usual expenses at the biennial conference of the Society of Governmental Accountants in Sacramento May 20.

Directed city attorney John W. Morse to prosecute for a sign violation if a satisfactory adjustment is not made within 15 days by the motel which installed an illegal directional sign on Mission Street between Third and Fourth.

Approved the appointment of Police Chief Clyde Klummann to replace Dr. Ray True on the Recreation Commission.

Approved business license transfers from Edith Larson to Arne and Dorethe Kippenes, from Wilder and Jones to Frederick S. Stanley and from Dr. Douglas MacFarland to Dr. Arthur E. Lyon, both dentists, and transfer of location for Dorette's Kindergarten Piano Studio from Mission and Fifth to Guadalupe between Fifth and Sixth.

Approved signs for the Spinning Wheel Inn, attorneys Wesley W. Kergan, John W. Morse and the Carmel Lodge.

Heard a long list of reports, including a preliminary one from Councilman May on the possibility of providing a group health insurance program for city employees. The council placed this on the budget agenda for further study and asked May to continue collecting information on various insurance plans.

Senior Citizens' Craft Fair Opens Mon. At Su Vecino

Craft Fair from May 11 through May 16 will exhibit and sell articles made by the many skilled senior craftsmen who live on the Peninsula. Because Carmel Foundation is sponsoring this sale, and again as he did last year, August Nieto, owner of Su Vecino Restaurant and a member of the Carmel Lions Club, co-sponsors is making space in the restaurant available for the articles to be displayed to the public.

All revenue taken in on sales and orders will go directly to the exhibiting craftsmen, who because they make one-of-a-kind handcrafted articles find it difficult to market their work themselves.

Last year, a special effort was made to find local outlets for those senior craftsmen who can produce in quantity, and several such outlets were discovered to the mutual benefit of the shops and the crafts-declares. The intellectual level of the Carmel population is exceptionally high. All the more reason for the Carmel elementary schools to be a shining example. At present, he feels, such is not the case. The teachers are doing what they can. It is the curricula Melville wishes to see improved.

Parochial Schools have a high reputation. Why should the public schools not have the same high educational standard? Melville asks.

At present Melville has little or no criticism of Carmel High School which seems to enjoy a high reputation.

Melville has a doctor's degree in international law, speaks and writes four languages, has always been vitally interested in education, was a Lt. Colonel in World War II, is a writer and in business on the Monterey Peninsula and feels qualified to fill the post he seeks on the Carmel School Board. He pledges himself, if elected, to help raise the standards of education in the Carmel District to the men. Special invitations will again be issued this year to shop owners and buyers interested in local handicrafts.
